

Loyalty Discount for Matrox RT.X100, RT.X2 or Axio Owners

For a limited time, Matrox are offering RT.X100, RT.X2 or Axio owners a loyalty discount on purchases of selected versions of the MXO2 products with the MAX H.264 encoding option.

Here are just a few of the reasons why you might like to take advantage of this special offer:

- The MXO2 devices provide the most complete platforms for Adobe Creative Suite 5 Production Premium.
 - Professional audio and video input and output with 10-bit hardware up/down/cross conversion
 - Built-in color calibration tool for inexpensive HDMI monitoring
 - Lightning fast H.264 hardware encoding for Blu-ray, the Web, and mobile devices via Matrox MAX technology
 - Full-resolution, full-frame-rate, multi-layer, realtime video editing via Matrox RT technology
- The MXO2 devices will let users continue work with the advanced realtime Matrox Flex CPU effects they are familiar with - such as primary and secondary color correction, smooth speed changes, and many more.
- The MXO2 devices will let users continue work with the high-quality, highly-efficient Matrox MPEG-2 I-frame intermediate codec that streamlines working with CPU-taxing footage such as AVCHD and XDCAM.
- The Matrox MXO2 devices can be used with laptops for mobile editing.
- The Matrox MXO2 devices offer cross-platform support for PC and Mac.
- Matrox MXO2 PC systems will seamlessly integrate into RT.X2 and Axio environments, with complete project compatibility, once CS5 drivers for RT.X2 and Axio become available in October.
